It took four hard years at West Point to groom him for the high command of the Class of 83. Military history and strategy; gorilla warfare; Brass Polish 101 and Mimeography I and II.

The troops were unruly, insubordinate; rag-tag army at best . . . but he handled us all with tact and grace to get the job done. If in spirit only, Fred, your first star . . . from us to you.

Before embarking on a life as a respected medical professional, Doug sold the latest in contraceptive technology.

As our fearless Student Council President, he sold the idea of the gym in 4190 to the College Administration.

A leader in all forms of leisure pursuits . . . Doug, we salute you.

PRESIDENT

I would like to address a few words to the Graduating Class:

Each of you sitting in front of me assembled this final time as a class has made unique and very personal sacrifices to reach this moment, this day. Truly, you have every reason to feel well satisfied with your accomplishment.

However, you are completing one chapter only to begin the next lesson in the ongoing educational process known as life.

You have heard, I feel certain, the quote contending that the world benefits or suffers "Not from that which a person has learned, but from what that person DOES with that which has been learned." And what YOU do with what you have learned will be the true educational outcome of your curriculum.

It has been said that the real final exam for the physician in training is the unconscious patient on the emergency room stretcher. There is more than a little truth to that statement.

This "Final Exam", though, will repeat itself day in and day out, with different names, different ages, different diagnoses. May you find within yourself, each time that you are thus tested, the capacity to respond with judgement, intellectual integrity, and caring.

In closing these few remarks, I would say to you: You have been our students, you have given us purpose, and we will miss you.

But know that, as we stand aside, it is with our love and faith in you and our prayers for your continued well being.

Congratulations . . . . . And God bless each of you.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

May 16, 1983

Dear Class of 1983:

The Board of Trustees has reviewed and approved each candidate for his or her degree, confident that we have added not only a talented and dedicated physician to the profession, but also a concerned and respected leader of the community. As Chairman, I have observed your four-year evolution from inquisitive, unsure students to talented, confident Doctors of Osteopathy.

While this personal transition was being effected, the science of medicine developed concepts and technology that were little short of miraculous. We are gratified that PCOM has kept pace with these developments at the same time maintaining its standards of excellence and achievement.

It gives me great pleasure to join my colleagues on the Board, the faculty, staff, and administration in extending to you our heartiest congratulations. Your graduation in no way diminishes your status as life-long members of the PCOM family. Our national prominence has been achieved only through the continued involvement and support of our graduates. We ask you then to join with us in the coming years in striving to make PCOM the pinnacle of medical education.

Sincerely yours,

J. Sydney Hoffman

J. Sydney Hoffman,
Chairman
Board of Trustees

OSTEOPATHIC OATH

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those recognized methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or reproach upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for a deadly purpose to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them or their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and gratitude upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further the application of basic biologic truths to the healing art, and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first promulgated by Andrew Taylor Still.

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

I swear by Apollo the physician and Asculapius and Hygeia and Panacea and all the gods and goddesses that according to my ability and judgment:

I will keep this oath and this stipulation — to reckon him who taught me as my parents, to share my substance with him and relieve his necessities if required, to look upon his offspring in the same footing as my own brothers and to teach them this Art if they shall wish to learn it.

Without fee or stipulation and that by precept, lecture and every other mode of instruction, I will impart a knowledge of the Art to my own sons, and those of my teachers, and to disciples bound by a stipulation and oath.

According to the law of medicine but to none others, I will follow the system of regimen which according to my ability and judgment I consider for the benefit of my patients and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. I will give no deadly medicine to any one if asked nor suggest any such counsel and in like manner I will not give to a woman a pessary to produce abortion.

With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. I will not cut persons laboring under the stone, but will leave this to be done by men who are practitioners of this work. Into whatever houses I enter I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption. And further from the seduction of females or males of freemen and slaves. Whatever in the exercise of my professional practice or not in connection with it I see or hear in the life of men which ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge as reckoning that all such should be kept secret.

While I continue to keep this oath unviolated, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of the Art respected by all men in all times! But should I trespass and violate this Oath, may the reverse be my lot!

DEAN

CONGRATULATIONS, CLASS OF 1983!

Thank you for the privilege of extending my best wishes to your Class on behalf of the Faculty and Educational Administration.

You have earned the privilege and right to be called "Osteopathic Physician", having completed one of the most demanding programs in medical education — that of osteopathic medicine at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. I am proud to welcome you as members of the Profession and as alumni of PCOM.

You have been a dedicated and industrious Class. You shared joy, sadness and triumph with one another. It has been a pleasure to see you work together.

Thank you for the interest shown your College and future students by the significant class gift to the Student Loan Fund. This is tangible expression of the "Osteopathic Oath", and establishes a fine example for future colleagues. It is appreciated by the entire College family.

It has been good to be your Dean and to work with you for four years. PCOM and my Office are here to continue to serve you in the future. Do not hesitate to call for assistance, and plan to be with us for some excellent C.M.E. programs and Alumni Reunions.

I shall follow you and your careers with interest. Many will be leaders in our Profession and in your communities. Support your Profession and College, care for your patients, and practice quality osteopathic medicine. May osteopathic principles be a motivating factor in your philosophy of practice.

On behalf of the Faculty, members of the Educational Administration, and our PCOM staff, I extend best wishes to each of you. May God bless you all.

Sincerely

Robert W. England, D.O.

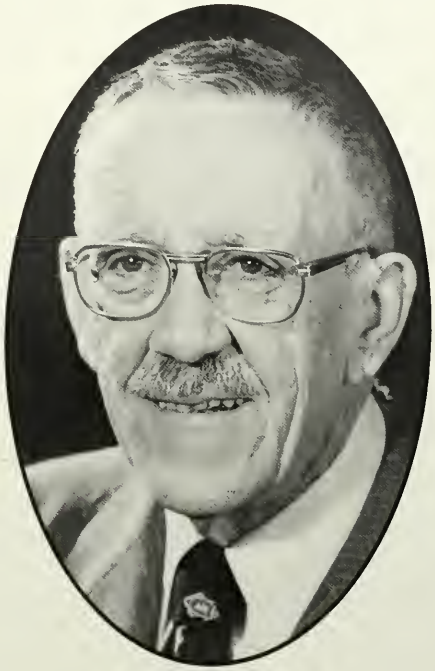
DEDICATION



1919-1982

Spencer G. Bradford, a 1942 PCOM graduate, completed post-doctoral work in Ear, Nose, and Throat in 1944 and received a Master of Science degree in Physiology in 1961. He taught and served as Chairman for PCOM's department of Physiology and Pharmacology for many years. In 1972 he was appointed Assistant Dean of Basic Sciences and in 1976 became the college's Director of Continuing Medicine.

But that was not how we, the Class of 1983, knew him. A majority of our contact with him was during his years as Director of Special and Continuing Education. To those of us who frequented the library on Saturday mornings, his C.M.E. registration table and smiling face were a familiar sight. He was always there with a cheerful "Hello!" and a ready ear. Always there to listen to our grumbling about being over worked and "under slept!"

This is how we, the Class of 1983 will remember Spencer G. Bradford, D.O.; not as a dean or director, not even as a physiologist or physician, but as a friend.

DIDACTIC YEARS

Which of the following statements by Carol Fox is true?
A) By second semester, you will not have to commute to 48th street.
B) 4190 will be ready; complete with gym, indoor track, and student lounge by second semester.
C) Your tuition will never be used in the HPCOM's budget.
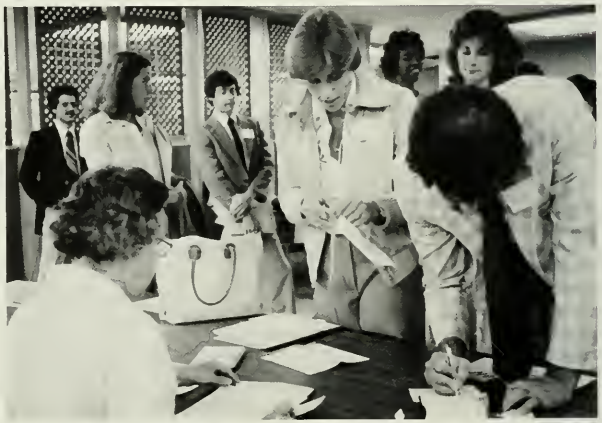
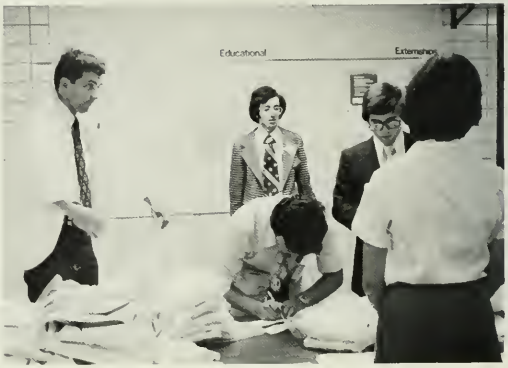
D) As a student during your clinical years, you will never have to pay for your meals while on rotation at HPCOM.
E) None of the above.





Mike Donegan, Class of '83. Damn glad to meet ya!

Do you have anything to go with my tie?

SIR WILLIAM OSLER

CLASS CHAIRMAN

The style that has been our class legacy to PCOM represents the giving, the sharing that was an ideal that began on day one and was fused into reality over the course of four years. Each of us well remembers that initial interview in the first floor conference room of Evans Hall. I recall that after an hour long encounter, the applicant ahead of me came out looking weary. "Any advice?", I asked. "Just keep smiling, no matter what happens," she replied. The value of that advice I would appreciate shortly as my own interview began. Ultimately, I too emerged looking every bit as weary. Happily, I later found that both she and I would be starting at PCOM in August. Thanks, Denise.

On the first day of class when I found myself appointed temporary class chairman, I said to each of you that the key to success must lie in cooperation, I meant it as much for myself as for you. Where there problems ahead? There certainly were, but so many times they lay in the glorious dilemma of having too many people wanting to help, rather than too few. On that first day, for instance, the class spontaneously organized two note services, each unaware of the other. By the second day the two had merged. Then there was the help that we gave directly to each other. Gratitude can never be sufficient for the many hours Bill Shiels spent explaining the fundamentals of biochemistry to me. These are only a few examples, but they demonstrate the tone of our tenure here.

In the future, just as at PCOM we found that pulling together resulted in a greater good, so within the larger context of medicine, each of us has a common core of knowledge, but at the same time experiences which are unique. We must search continually for the best of both mentors and colleagues so that we may better serve our patients. Ultimately, when we cross that threshold of confidence and find we have deified ourselves, I ask you to think back to the wisdom of that great ruler of ancient times who employed a slave whose sole purpose was to remind him, "One day Alexander, you too will die."

It is appropriate at this point to give thanks to the faculty and administration for their knowledge, leadership, and inspiration in creating an environment which nurtured our growth both as students of science and practitioners of medicine. Best wishes for the future to all who have given so much, especially to you my classmates, the Class of 1983.

— To All Those Who Cared —

Along this sometime, oftentime, long and arduous path, may we pause for reflection.

Let us remember those who have helped us, shared our thoughts and frustrations, our triumphs and defeats. Amidst seemingly endless hours of immersion in pursuit of a career goal, they offered encouragement instead of ridicule. For their sacrifice, at times, was much greater than our own; so that we could be free to follow our dreams. Let us never forget their contribution!

With but one page to write upon and a lifetime full of things for which to say thank you, this task becomes a seemingly hopeless one but, nonetheless, one that I will attempt to show my heartfelt thanks to all who have helped me, so selflessly, make it thus far.

To my family, who provided me with a warm home, never ceased in showing their love; who kept giving even after they had given their all, and who showed me an example of integrity.

To Lisa, whom I hold with deep love and respect; who shared her love and laughter, smiles which convey enough warmth to warm any heart, and for sharing with me, her faith.

To Dave, Randi and Bill. To Grant, Walter, Ingrid, Lois and Bob, and to Gordon and Steve with whom I have tried to know God more deeply and steadfastly.

Finally, to my Heavenly Father, who has satisfied all of my needs according to his riches in Jesus Christ and thus given me peace.

"How blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked, Nor stand in the path of sinners, not sit in the seat of scoffers! But, his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in His law he mediatates day and night. And he will be like a tree firmly planted by streams of living water, which yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither, and in whatever he does, he prospers."

A Physician's Prayer

Lord, Thou Great Physician, I kneel before Thee. Since every good and perfect gift must come from Thee,

I PRAY:

Give skill to my hand, clear vision to my mind, kindness and sympathy to my heart. Give me singleness of purpose, strength to lift at least a part of the burden of my suffering fellowmen, and a true realization of the rare privilege that is mine. Take from my heart all guile and worldliness, that with the simple faith of a child I may rely on Thee. Amen.

The effort to understand the universe is one of the very few things that lift human life a little above the level of farce and give it some of the grace of tragedy.

We all live under the same sky, but we don't all have the same horizon.

The peculiar evil of silencing the expression of an opinion is that it is robbing the human race.

Special thanks to Special people:

To My Family: for their selflessness, untold sacrifices, encouragement and endless love, for making a family a warm and uplifting shelter so often needed, for giving all and more.

To Friends: for their steadfast friendship, understanding and continual support despite my negligence.

To Jeff: for his honesty — with himself, medicine and me, for sharing bagels, verses, lockers, QT, ideals, study time, feelings, moments of utter glum and frustration, tears and smiles, for comforting and strengthening in times of weariness and weakness . . . for being there.

To the Lord: for being with me each step of the way — making it all possible and worthwhile.

Your love must be sincere. Detest what is evil, cling to what is good. Love one another with the affection of brothers. Anticipate each other in showing respect. Do not grow slack, but be fervent in spirit; He whom you serve is the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient under trial, perservere in prayer. Look on the needs of the saints as your own; be generous in offering hospitality. Bless your persecutors; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Have the same attitude toward all. Put away ambitious thoughts and associate with those who are lowly. Do not be wise in your own estimation. Never repay injury with injury. See that your conduct is honorable in the eyes of all. If possible live peaceably with everyone.

Then take me disappearin' through the smoke rings of my mind. Down the foggy ruins of time, far past the frozen leaves, the haunted, frightened trees out to the windy beach far from the twisted reach of crazy sorrow. I have three personal ideals. One, to do the day's work well and not to bother about tomorrow.
The second ideal has been to act the golden rule, as far as in me lay, toward my professional brethren and toward the patients committed to my care. And the third has been to cultivate such a measure of equanimity as would enable me to bear success with humility, the affection of my friends without pride, and be ready when the day of sorrow and grief came to meet it with the courage befitting a man.

There's nothing you can do that can't be done. Nothing you can sing that can't be sung.
Nothing you can say, but you can learn how to play the game, it's easy.
Nothing you can make that can't be made.
No one you can save that can't be saved
Nothing you can do, but you can learn how to be you in time,
It's easy.
All you need is love, all you need is love
All you need is love, love, love is all you need.
All you need is love, all you need is love,
All you need is love, love, love is all you need.
There's nothing you can know that isn't known.
Nothing you can see that isn't shown.
Nowhere you can be, that isn't where you're meant to be,
It's easy.

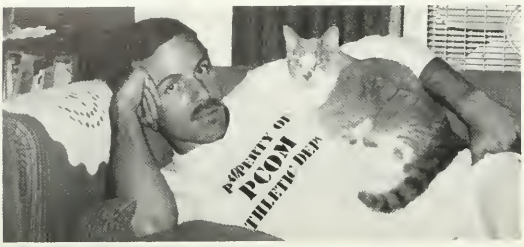
MOM AND DAD:
WITHOUT YOU THIS WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE, ALL MY LOVE AND THANKS FOR EVERYTHING.

Success means something different to each of us. To me it means self-esteem, which is the best defense against petty gossip, envy, unfair criticism and naked lies.

Success means having intelligent friends and honest critics. It means the ability to laugh at yourself, and feel real pain when someone good is in trouble.

To appreciate the best in others and acknowledge shortcomings in ourselves — this is success. And most of all, to know that you have enriched the life of even one person because something you said or did elevated that person is some small way. This is to have succeeded.



Thanks to my family for your never-ending love and understanding, for without you this dream would never have been possible.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Better than grandeur, better than gold,
Than rank and titles a thousandfold, is a
Healthy body and a mind at ease, and simple
Pleasures that always please.

A heart that can feel for another's woe,
And share his joys with a genial glow; with Sympathies large enough to enfold all men as Brothers, is better than gold.

Better than gold is a conscience clear,
Though toiling for bread in a humble sphere,
Doubly blessed with content and health,
Untried by the lusts and cares of wealth,
Lowly living and lofty thought
Adorn and ennoble a poor man's cot; for mind
And morals in nature's plan are the genuine tests of an earnest man.

Better than gold is a peaceful home, where all
The fireside characters come, the shrine of
Love, the heaven of life, hallowed by mother,
Or sister, or wife. However humble the home
May be, or tried with sorrow by heaven's
Decree, the Blessing that never were brought or Sold, and center there, are better than gold.

THE SWEETEST LIVES

The sweetest lives are those to duty wed,
Whose deeds, both great and small,
Are close-knit strands of unbroken thread
Where love ennobles all.
The world may sound no trumpets, ring no
bells;
The book of life the shining record tells.
The love shall chant its own beatitudes
After its own life working. A child's kiss
Set on thy sighing lips shall make thee glad;
A sick man helped by thee shall make thee strong;
Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense
Of service which thou renderest.

Take time to work — it is the price of success. Take time to think — is is the source of power. Take time to play — it is the secret of perpetual youth. Take time to read — it is the foundation of wisdom. Take time to be friendly — it is the road to happiness. Take time to dream — it is hitching your wagon to a star. Take time to love and be loved — it is the privilege of the Gods. Take time to look around — the day is too short to be selfish. Take time to laugh — it is the music of the soul.

Often your tasks will be many, and more than you think you can do
Often the road will be rugged, and the hills insurmountable too
But always remember the hills ahead are never as steep as they seem
And with Faith in your heart, start upward and climb til you reach your dream.
For nothing in life that is worthy, is ever too hard to achieve
If you have the courage to try it, and you have the Faith to believe
For Faith is a force that is greater then knowledge or power or skill
And many defeats turn to triumph, if you trust in God's wisdom and will
For Faith is a mover of mountains, there's nothing that God cannot do
So start out today with Faith in your heart and "Climb til Your Dreams Come True"

THE CHOICE

The intellect of man is forced to choose perfection of the life, or of the work, and if it take the second must refuse a heavenly mansion, raging in the sky. When all that story's finished, what's the news, in luck or out the toil has left its mark: That old perplexity an empty purse, or the day's vanity, the night's remorse.

The full measure of a man is not solely determined by the impact of his accomplishments only. Neither is his value judged only in a numerical sense. For all he can attain is the full measure of his ability and it is not the frequency of his endeavors that count, but the fervor of each attempt. What a man shall envision himself to be and what he shall finally become while living will most certainly evolve from his friends and his enemies, those who loved him and those who did not; those who touched him, and those he touched; the ones he gave to, and the ones he took from. It is only God's grace and mercy a source greater than himself, does Man exist, and it is in God that we move, live, and have our being.

We at Botsford General Hospital invite you to meet our staff and discover our modern 300-bed hospital facility, including a new 50,000 square foot Education and Administration Building which houses an excellent medical library.

Become acquainted with our outstanding programs of osteopathic medical education, fully approved by all required accrediting agencies, and developed via our affiliation with such schools as Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Our experience teaching and training spans over 33 years.

Interns and residents rotate through Botsford General Hospital, located in the rolling hills and lake country of southeastern Michigan, and an inner-city hospital only minutes from the vibrant Detroit city center and Ontario, Canada.

The House Staff consists of 30 interns and 53 residents. We presently maintain residencies in: Anesthesiology, Family Practice, Gastroenterology, General Surgery, Internal Medicine, Medical Diseases of the Chest, Neurology, Obstetrics/Gynecology, Ophthalmology, Orthopedic Surgery, Otorhinolaryngology, Radiology and Urology.

Our Obstetrical Service approximates 1500 deliveries per year and includes an Alternative Birthing Unit. Additionally, we have an active Ambulatory Surgery Unit with a caseload over 3000 per year, a Critical Care Unit, and our Emergency Service has more than 25,000 visits per year. Our annual total caseload is approximately 100,000 patient days, and we are still growing.

To our colleagues,

We came from diverse places, convening for a single purpose. We witnessed dramatic changes going on around us; one of which was the smooth transition to 4190. But another metamorphosis has taken place, one unique to the Class of '83 and difficult to capture on film. We have emerged from P.C.O.M. as mature adults, equipped with the knowledge to meet the challenges of the future. We have each made special friends who have made this transition a lasting memory.

It was not an easy task to condense four years of work into one book, but with the thousands of pictures taken over the years, those chosen capture the memories of our medical education.

In the years to come, as we scatter across the country, it is our hope that this book will bind us together and remind us of our unique experience.

Gary MaryAnn
